

Forrest in the desert

Let me try to show you who I am
Let me try to say, why I want to be your friend
It's not easy to get this feeling into words
It's hard to say the meaning of my soul

I just feel fine when I see you
I feel fine when you speak with me
I feel so fine when I feel
That you want to be

A friend of myself too
Which can stand all the troubles through

Let me try to show you, where I stand
It's just near to you, also when I'm not to be seen
Cause my thoughts are with you, equal where you are
My understanding is just nearby you, like a lightning star

When you recognize you can feel it
With a little luck you can see
If you try to realize me
Oh, we can be

A forrest in the desert
A sailingship in the storm
A castle wich will never falls
Two poets created one poem
